

Eric's WhoRU's Plan To Eliminate ALL TAXES:

Thomas Paine
The Father Of Freedom

What's proposed here is in accordance with the eight basic axioms outlined below to eliminate all taxation, at every single level of government.

With Eric's plan, city, county, state, sales taxes, property taxes, fuel taxes and hidden taxes would no longer exist; no taxes of any nature whatever!

Of course we need to fund government. But if we don't have a government of our own choosing, tyrants will impose one on us, like the Europeans and English did on the Indians.

We need a government with enough military power to dissuade or, if necessary, repel foreign invaders, so we must provide adequate funding.

How can we call ourselves free and teach our children that they are free, when we are all forced to pay taxes, a euphemism for armed robbery.

Therefore, the means by which we fund our government must be completely voluntary.

- In order to have a free flowing economy, a readily accessible money system is crucial.
- People who borrow money expect to pay interest.
- Interest is the only voluntary source of revenue that anyone has been able to devise.

Is it not, therefore, most reasonable that the interest voluntarily paid on such borrowed money go to the Federal Treasury, to fund the Peoples government?

And it is most imperative that we do not allow the government (Congress or the President) to have any control over, or access to, the Peoples central bank.

The Solution

The most recurrent reason for failure to reach satisfactory solutions to basic political problems is the failure to examine the problem and it's solution on sound basic principles. This cause is universal.

In examining this simple solution to the problems with the income tax and our monetary system, so ably exposed by Aaron Russo's film America: From Freedom to Fascism, we must first lay out a few basic fundamental axioms, principles, which ought to be self evident but which apparently are not:

1. Governments do not exist in nature;
2. No person has any natural authority to bind another.
3. Governments are fictional entities created by humans.
4. Governments can have no more authority than their human creators.
5. Taxation is a euphemism for armed robbery.
6. Those governed by means of taxation can't possibly be free.
7. A government funded by means of taxation is a slave state.
8. You cannot claim you are free and teach your children they are free, when the government instituted to protect your freedom, funds itself by pointing a gun at you.

In reading these basic and fundamental axioms, did you possibly find an application of any of them to the United States?

How about all eight?

If you do not grasp that all eight axioms apply to the United States, please go back and re-read them until you are able to discern that every one of them does indeed apply to the United States.

In regard to axiom eight - slightly rephrased:

How can we claim to be a free people and teach our children that they are free when the government that we created to protect our freedom funds itself by pointing its guns at us?

Please keep all of the foregoing in mind while reading the solution presented below.

In his movie America: From Freedom to Fascism, Aaron Russo lays out an excellent exposure of both the Income Tax and the privately owned central bank of the United States, known as the Federal Reserve; but Aaron does not present a meaningful solution to either of these two very serious problems.

Maybe this is because Mr. Russo wants you to think for a while about how we got into this mess.

This leads us back to what is presented in the opening paragraph on page one.

"The reason we are in this mess is because in the past, we have failed to take the time to create a basic foundation for the government we have created to govern and protect us."

That is why you are once more encouraged to reread and remember and apply all eight of the axioms that you read herein above.

Please understand that the solution below:

1. Will not require the elimination or reduction, in any existing government programs:

- Social Security

- Medicare

- Medicaid

- Aid to Dependent Children

- other government support programs

- other government funded programs

All will remain in place and fully funded.

2. Nor will this solution require you to pay out any additional money to fund the government.

3. Nor is this solution taxation by another name.

Before you read any further, please re-read the three numbered items above!

There are a few points left out of Aaron Russo's movie – one being that all of the economic problems we encounter in the United States are a direct result of the fact that the central bank of the United States is privately owned.

The economic boom and bust cycles, all foreclosures, inflation of the money supply, rising prices – and whatever else you want to address – add it on to the list!

But no matter what you add on, the cause originates in the private ownership of the Federal Reserve and not in the basic nature of the central bank.

The Solution - in a Nut Shell

All we need to do to fix the problem is to have the ownership of the Federal Reserve taken over by the PEOPLE, while keeping the operation as distant from Congress as it currently is under private ownership.

That is, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve must remain in place, doing the same job it does now, but doing it for the People of the United States instead of for the Fed's current private owners!

The reason private ownership is the cause of the problems is simply because under private ownership, all of the interest collected on loans goes to the private owners of the Fed.

Under the solution presented here, the interest will, instead, be credited to the Treasury of the United States government, to be used instead of taxation (armed robbery) to pay for all of the government programs currently funded by means of armed robbery.

The solution is as simple as that!
